

Pages & Platforms

PRESENTS

GET YOUR STORY

UNSTUCK

Using

The 7 Essential Story Types

With certified developmental editors

Rachelle Ramirez

Anne Hawley

Chat

Q&A

- Use the chat room to talk with other attendees.
- Put questions in the Q&A box. We'll answer them at the end of the session.

Before we start:

Visit storypath.me to get your copy of our Guide to the Seven Essential Story Types.

storypath.me

Today, we're going to show you four steps on the path to finishing your story.

Five Essential Elements for Your Professional Draft.

The Seven Story Types.

Marketing Categories & Setting Types.

Putting It All Together.

A caveat...

Tools

Tools,
not rules.

So let's get started.

Five Essential Elements for Your Professional Draft.

You probably know this, but...

You probably know this, but...

This isn't a one-draft process.

Zero Draft

Zero Draft

Zero Draft

Professional Draft:

Professional Draft:

- Has a protagonist pursuing a singular desire...

Professional Draft:

- Has a protagonist pursuing a singular desire...
- ...which establishes clear stakes...

Professional Draft:

- Has a protagonist pursuing a singular desire...
- ...which establishes clear stakes...
- ...and causes them to undergo a change as they pursue their desire.

Professional Draft:

- Has a protagonist pursuing a singular desire...
- ...which establishes clear stakes...
- ...and causes them to undergo a change as they pursue their desire.
- Has a premise that's reflected in every scene.

Professional Draft:

- Has a protagonist pursuing a singular desire...
- ...which establishes clear stakes...
- ...and causes them to undergo a change as they pursue their desire.
- Has a premise that's reflected in every scene.
- Is driving toward the emotion your reader expects to feel.

premise

emotion

stakes change

desire

When all these are clear...

Desire

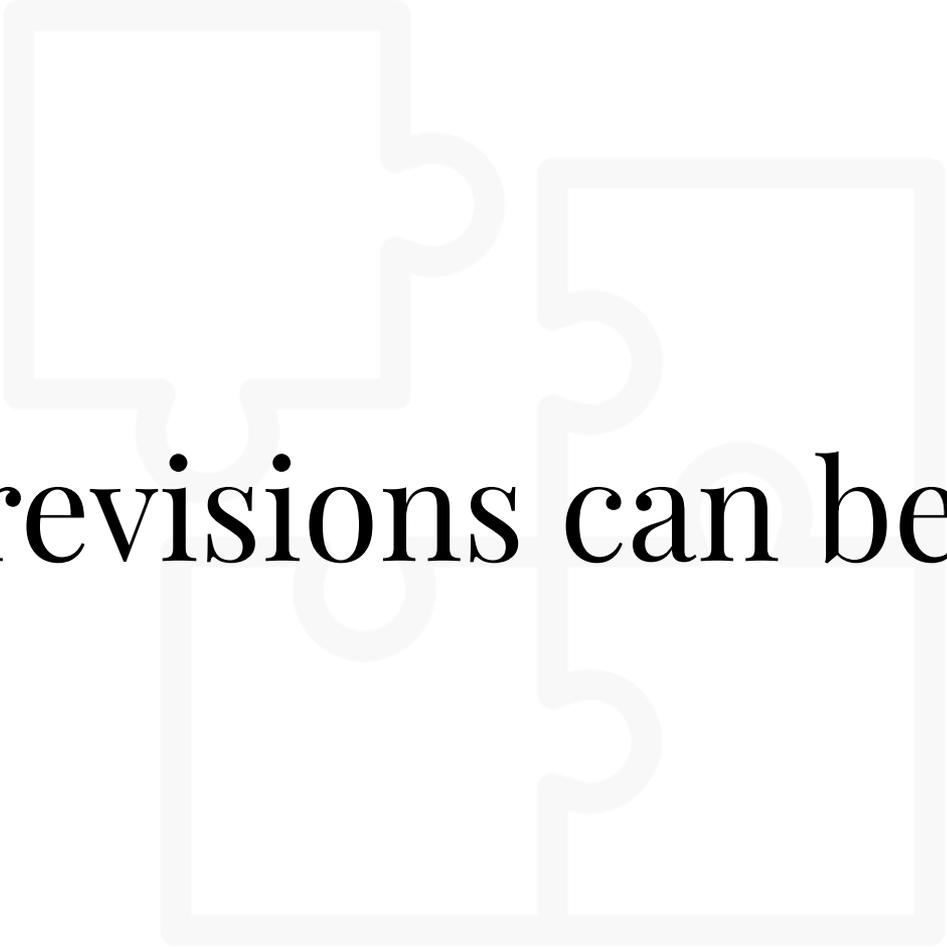

Stakes

Change

Premise

Emotion

...revisions can begin.

But how do you get there...

when “butt
in chair” isn’t enough?

This brings us to...

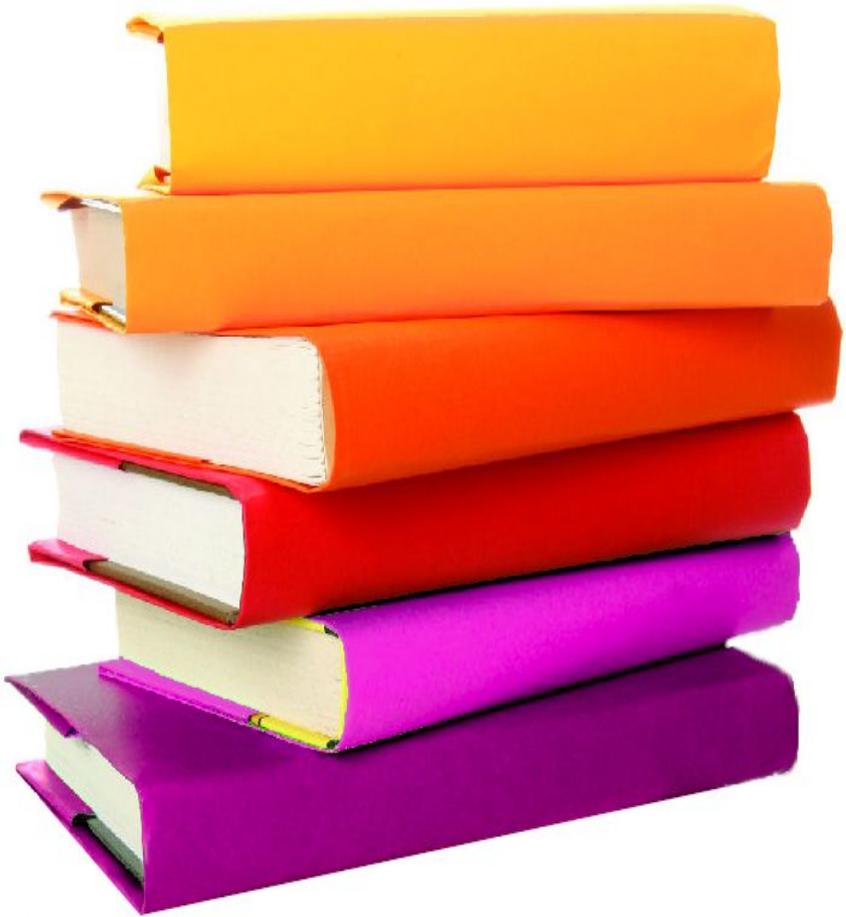

The Seven Story Types.

Story Type is:

Story Type is:

- A way to understand the kind of story you're telling.

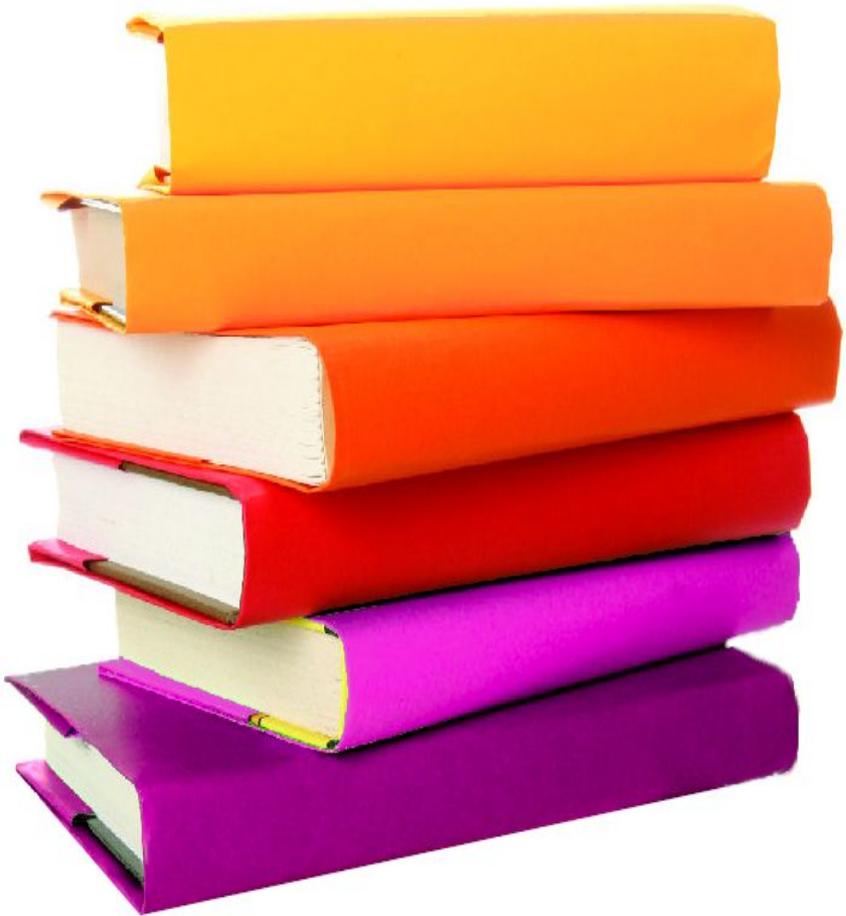

Story Type is:

- A way to understand the kind of story you're telling.
- Your key to the essential elements.

Story Type is:

- A way to understand the kind of story you're telling.
- Your key to the essential elements.
- For writers and editors.

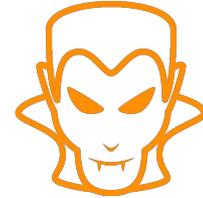

Story Type is:

- A way to understand the kind of story you're telling.
- Your key to the essential elements
- For writers and editors.
- Not necessarily for readers.

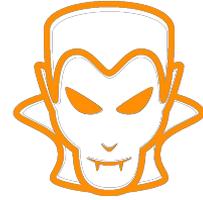

The Seven Story Types

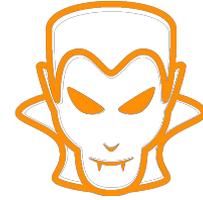

The Seven Story Types

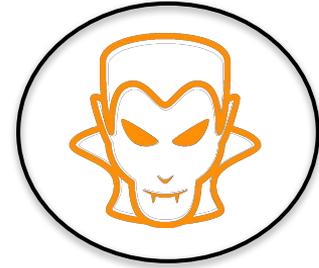

The Seven Story Types

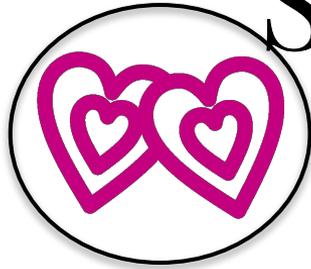

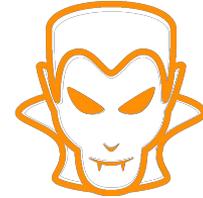

The Seven Story Types

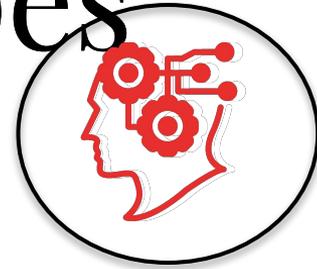

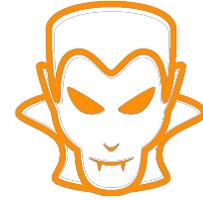

The Seven Story Types

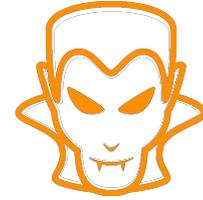

The Seven Story Types

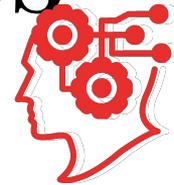

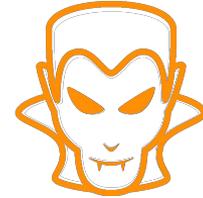

The Seven Story Types

The Seven Story Types

Let's look at them one by one.

Action

Action

- Action stories are plot-driven and involve danger, escape, chase, adventure, rescue, rebellion, etc.

Action

- Action stories are plot-driven and involve danger, escape, chase, adventure, rescue, rebellion, etc.
- The Action protagonist is motivated by a desire to save lives and restore safety.

Action

- Action stories are plot-driven and involve danger, escape, chase, adventure, rescue, rebellion, etc.
- The Action protagonist is motivated by a desire to save lives and restore safety.
- Action stakes involve safety, life, danger, & death.

Action

- Action stories are plot-driven and involve danger, escape, chase, adventure, rescue, rebellion, etc.
- The Action protagonist is motivated by a desire to save lives and restore safety.
- Action stakes involve safety, life, danger, & death.
- The Action reader wants to feel emotions of excitement and bravery in the face of danger.

Story Premise (all Story Types)

Story Premise (all Story Types)

- “Controlling idea” or “theme”

Story Premise (all Story Types)

- “Controlling idea” or “theme”
- Single-sentence statement

Story Premise (all Story Types)

- “Controlling idea” or “theme”
- Single-sentence statement
- Describes the climactic value change

Story Premise (all Story Types)

- “Controlling idea” or “theme”
- Single-sentence statement
- Describes the climactic value change
- Gives the cause of that change

Story Premise (all Story Types)

- “Controlling idea” or “theme”
- Single-sentence statement
- Describes the climactic value change
- Gives the cause of that change
- Names primary event, what happens, and why

Story Premise (all Story Types)

- “Controlling idea” or “theme”
- Single-sentence statement
- Describes the climactic value change
- Gives the cause of that change
- Names primary event, what happens, and why
- Is specific to your story

Action's Essential Premise

Heroic action against villainous behavior leads to saving lives, whereas failure to act heroically leads to loss of life and moral failure.

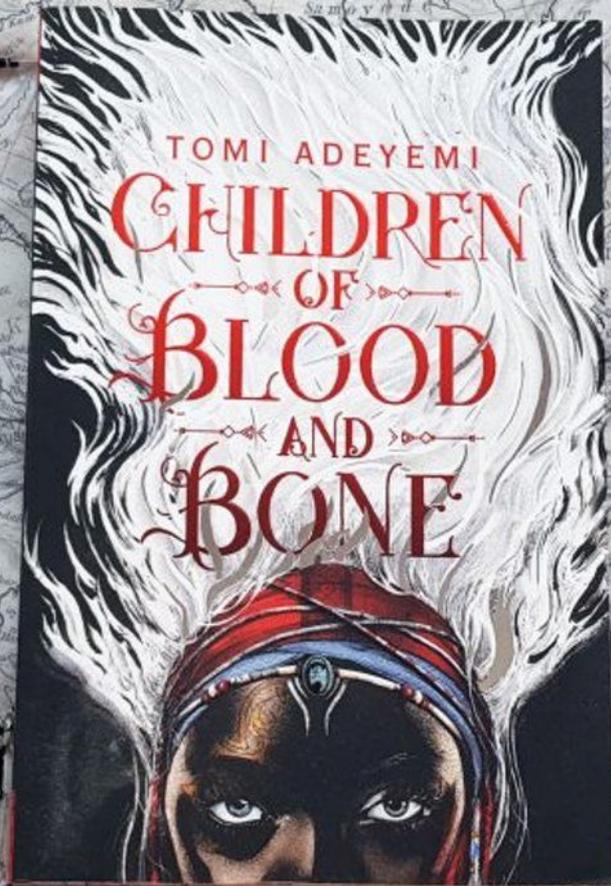

Action Examples

TOMI ADEYEMI
CHILDREN OF
BLOOD AND BONE

"Terrific."
—Barack Obama

"An American
masterpiece."
—NPR

WINNER OF THE PULITZER
PRIZE

COLSON WHITEHEAD

The

UNDERGROUND RAILROAD

#1 New York Times Bestseller

"A triumph."
—The Washington Post

"Stunningly daring."
—*The New York Times
Book Review*

A Novel

WINNER OF THE NATIONAL BOOK AWARD

Crime

Crime

- Crime stories are plot-driven and involve solving a puzzle, investigating a crime, or planning a heist.

Crime

- Crime stories are plot-driven and involve solving a puzzle, investigating a crime, or planning a heist.
- The Crime protagonist is motivated by the desire to solve a puzzle or restore order.

Crime

- Crime stories are plot-driven and involve solving a puzzle, investigating a crime, or planning a heist.
- The Crime protagonist is motivated by the desire to solve a puzzle or restore order.
- Crime stakes involve justice and injustice.

Crime

- Crime stories are plot-driven and involve solving a puzzle, investigating a crime, or planning a heist.
- The Crime protagonist is motivated by the desire to solve a puzzle or restore order.
- Crime stakes involve justice and injustice.
- The Crime reader wants to feel emotions of intrigue, or the safety of seeing justice prevail.

Crime's Essential Premise

Criminal activity results in chaos, whereas pursuit of justice restores social order.

Crime Examples

SECRETS
OBSESSION
BETRAYAL

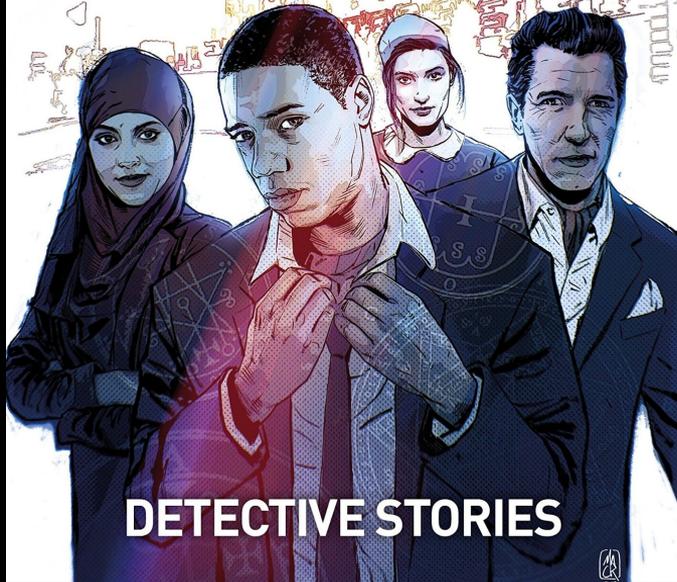

SLEEP
WELL
MY LADY
KWEI
QUARTEY

BEN AARONOVITCH

CARTMEL • SULLIVAN • GUERRERO

RIVERS OF LONDON

DETECTIVE STORIES

"Fresh,
original,
and a wonderful read. I loved it."

—CHARLAINE
HARRIS

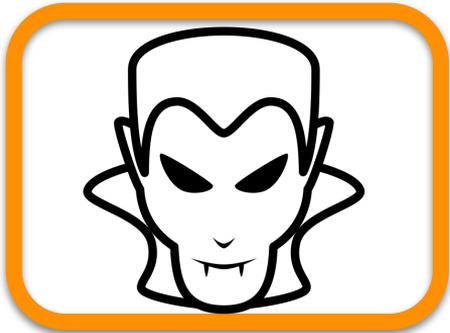

MIDNIGHT RIOT

BEN AARONOVITCH

Author of Moon Over Soho

Horror

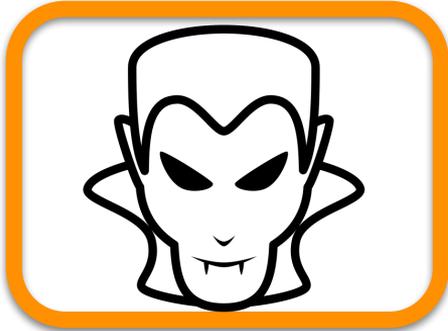

Horror

- Horror stories are plot-driven, with a monster intent on destruction and a victim-protagonist.

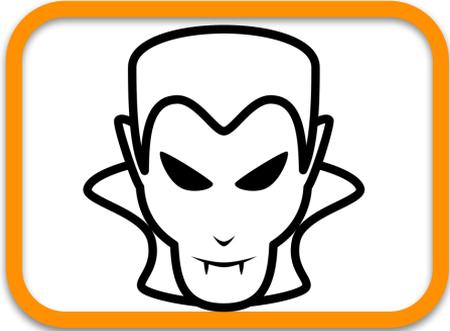

Horror

- Horror stories are plot-driven, with a monster intent on destruction and a victim-protagonist.
- The Horror protagonist is motivated by a desire to stay alive and avoid a fate worse than death.

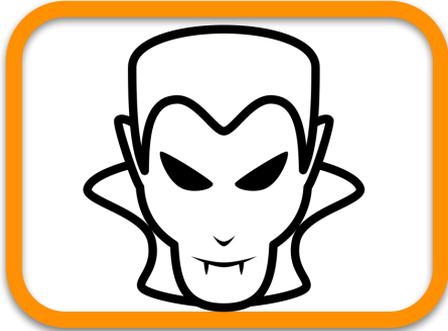

Horror

- Horror stories are plot-driven, with a monster intent on destruction and a victim-protagonist.
- The Horror protagonist is motivated by a desire to stay alive and avoid a fate worse than death.
- Horror stakes involve life, escape, and torment.

Horror

- Horror stories are plot-driven, with a monster intent on destruction and a victim-protagonist.
- The Horror protagonist is motivated by a desire to stay alive and avoid a fate worse than death.
- Horror stakes involve life, escape, and torment.
- The Horror reader wants to feel the emotion of terror and imagine their bravery in facing a monster.

Horror's Essential Premise

Vigilance by ordinary people can keep evil at bay, whereas cowardice allows the monster to win.

Horror Examples

THE HAUNTING OF HILL HOUSE

Shirley
Jackson

Introduction by
LAURA MILLER

The
Shirley Jackson
CENTENNIAL

Toni Morrison

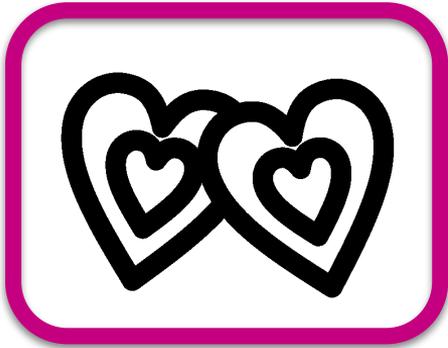

B E L O V E D

Read by the Author

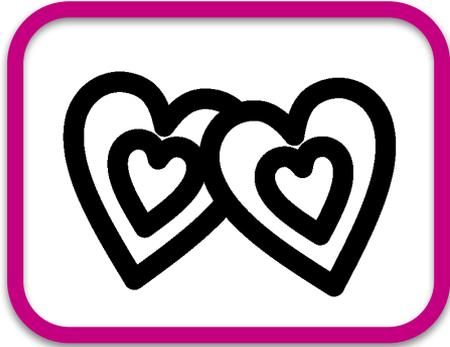

U N A B R I D G E D

Love

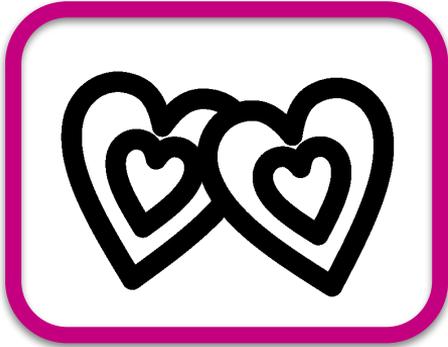

Love

- Love stories are (usually, mostly) plot-driven, and involve courtship, intimacy, romance, or forbidden union.

Love

- Love stories are (usually, mostly) plot-driven, and involve courtship, intimacy, romance, or forbidden union.
- The Love protagonist is motivated by a desire to win love or avoid vulnerability.

Love

- Love stories are (usually, mostly) plot-driven, and involve courtship, intimacy, romance, or forbidden union.
- The Love protagonist is motivated by a desire to win love or avoid vulnerability.
- Love stakes involve rejection, vulnerability, and intimacy.

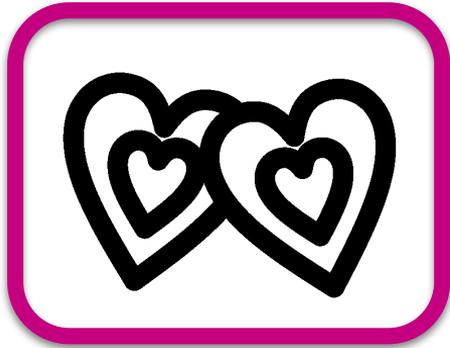

Love

- Love stories are (usually, mostly) plot-driven, and involve courtship, intimacy, romance, or forbidden union.
- The Love protagonist is motivated by a desire to win love or avoid vulnerability.
- Love stakes involve rejection, vulnerability, and intimacy.
- The Love reader wants to feel the emotion of anticipation, intimacy, and vulnerability without risk.

Love's Essential Premise

Vulnerability leads to love, whereas an unwillingness to risk rejection results in loss of love.

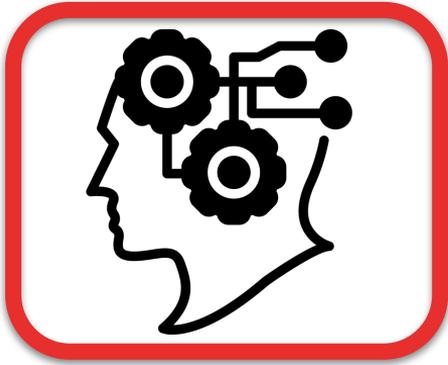

Love Examples

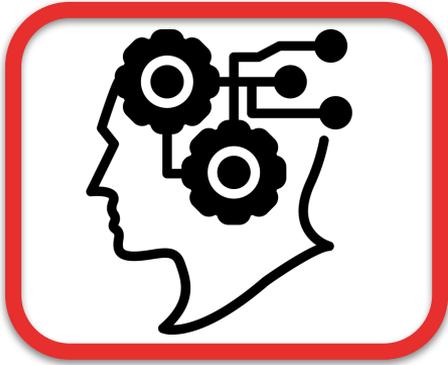

Worldview

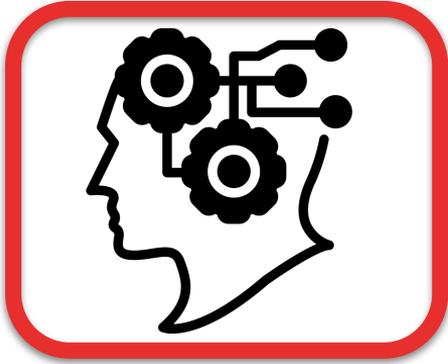

Worldview

- Worldview stories are character-driven, and involve naivete, disillusionment, and meaning.

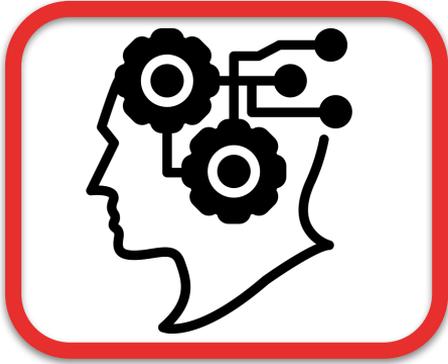

Worldview

- Worldview stories are character-driven, and involve naivete, disillusionment, and meaning.
- The Worldview protagonist is motivated by a desire for knowledge or to avoid the truth.

Worldview

- Worldview stories are character-driven, and involve naivete, disillusionment, and meaning.
- The Worldview protagonist is motivated by a desire for knowledge or to avoid the truth.
- Worldview stakes involve ignorance and beliefs vs knowledge and wisdom.

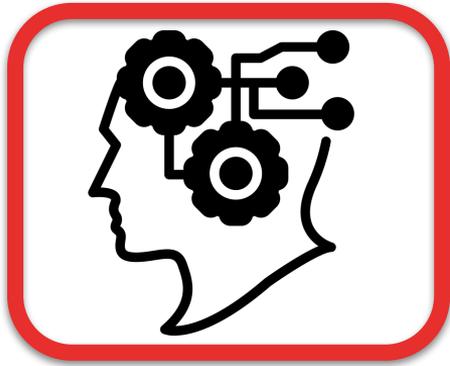

Worldview

- Worldview stories are character-driven, and involve naivete, disillusionment, and meaning.
- The Worldview protagonist is motivated by a desire for knowledge or to avoid the truth.
- Worldview stakes involve ignorance and beliefs vs knowledge and wisdom.
- The Worldview reader wants to feel emotions of empathetic satisfaction or pity, and enjoys feeling comparatively wise and mature.

Worldview's Essential Premise

Open-mindedness leads to wisdom, whereas avoiding the truth results in self-deception.

Worldview Examples

A NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER

THE
SECRET LIFE
of BEES
a novel

SUE MONK KIDD

"A wonderful novel about mothers and daughters and the transcendent power of love."—Connie May Fowler

Validation

Validation

- Validation stories are character-driven and involve the search for success and esteem.

Validation

- Validation stories are character-driven and involve the search for success and esteem.
- The Validation protagonist is motivated by a desire to attain success and honor.

Validation

- Validation stories are character-driven and involve the search for success and esteem.
- The Validation protagonist is motivated by a desire to attain success and honor.
- Validation stakes involve success, failure, and selling out.

Validation

- Validation stories are character-driven and involve the search for success and esteem.
- The Validation protagonist is motivated by a desire to attain success and honor.
- Validation stakes involve success, failure, and selling out.
- The Validation reader wants to feel emotions of admiration or pity, and enjoy a sense of moral superiority.

Validation's Essential Premise

Ethical choices create true success, whereas choices made solely for external success lead to a betrayal of one's values.

Validation Examples

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER

WINNER OF THE
MAN BOOKER
PRIZE

AUTHOR OF
*BRING UP
THE BODIES*

Wolf

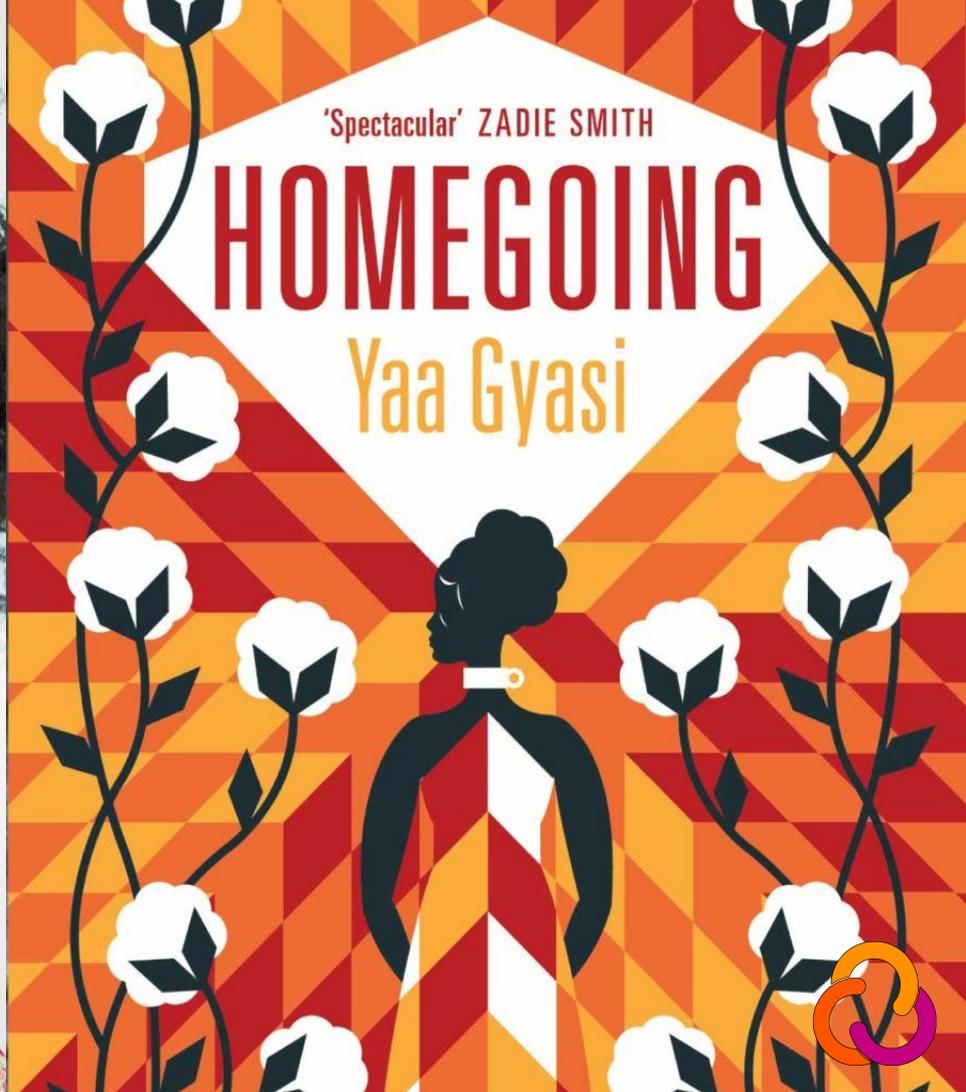

Hall

a novel

PICADOR

HILARY MANTEL

Redemption

Redemption

- Redemption stories are character-driven, and involve forgiveness or atonement.

Redemption

- Redemption stories are character-driven, and involve forgiveness or atonement.
- The Redemption protagonist is motivated by guilt, shame, and a desire for forgiveness.

Redemption

- Redemption stories are character-driven, and involve forgiveness or atonement.
- The Redemption protagonist is motivated by guilt, shame, and a desire for forgiveness.
- Redemption stakes involve selfishness, altruism, and sacrifice.

Redemption

- Redemption stories are character-driven, and involve forgiveness or atonement.
- The Redemption protagonist is motivated by guilt, shame, and a desire for forgiveness.
- Redemption stakes involve selfishness, altruism, and sacrifice.
- The Redemption reader wants to feel emotions of satisfaction, pity or contempt, and moral superiority.

Redemption's Essential Premise

Altruistic action results in redemption, whereas selfishness leads to moral failure.

Redemption Examples

#1 NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER

THE KITE RUNNER

A NOVEL

"Powerful...Haunting."

—The New York Times Book Review

WITH A FOREWORD BY THE AUTHOR

KHALED HOSSEINI

Author of A Thousand Splendid Suns and And the Mountains Echoed

And there you have them:

And there you have them:

The Seven Story Types.

If a non-writer asks you:

“What kind of story are
you writing?”

What do you say?

“What kind of story are
you writing?”

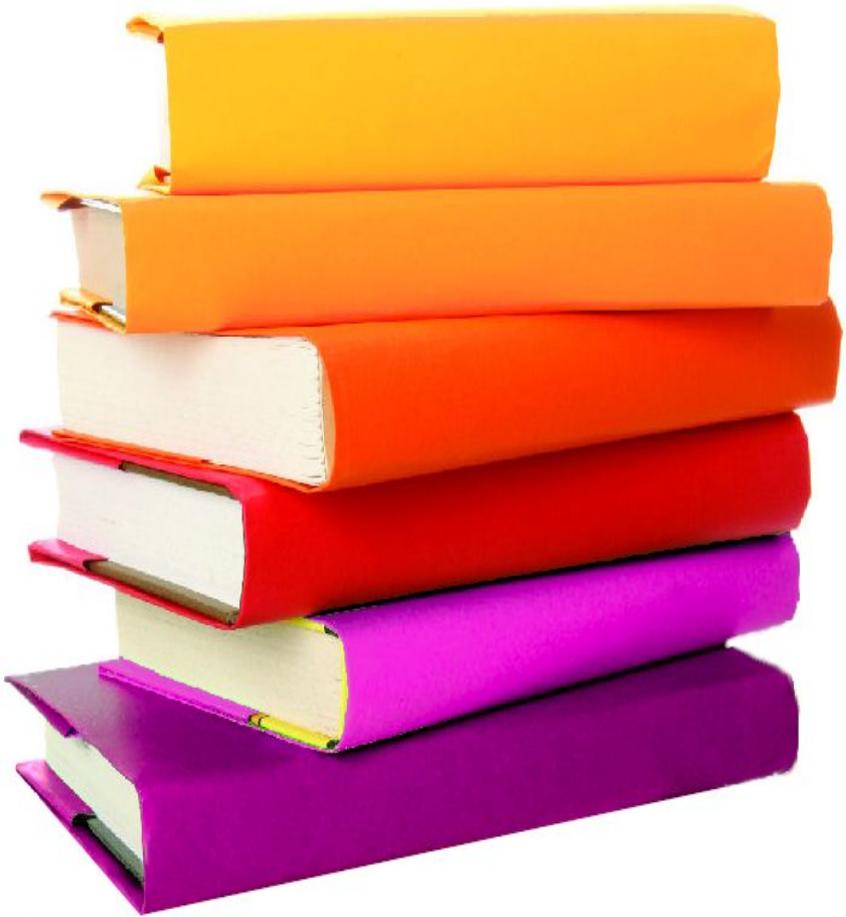

Maybe you say
“YA” or “Women’s Fiction”

Maybe you say
“Fantasy” or “Dystopian”

This brings us to...

Marketing Categories & Setting Types.

Marketing categories & settings

Marketing categories & settings

- Help publishers direct readers' attention.

Marketing categories & settings

- Help publishers direct readers' attention.
- Are less valuable to you as the writer.

They go by demographics:

Children's, Middle Grade, YA

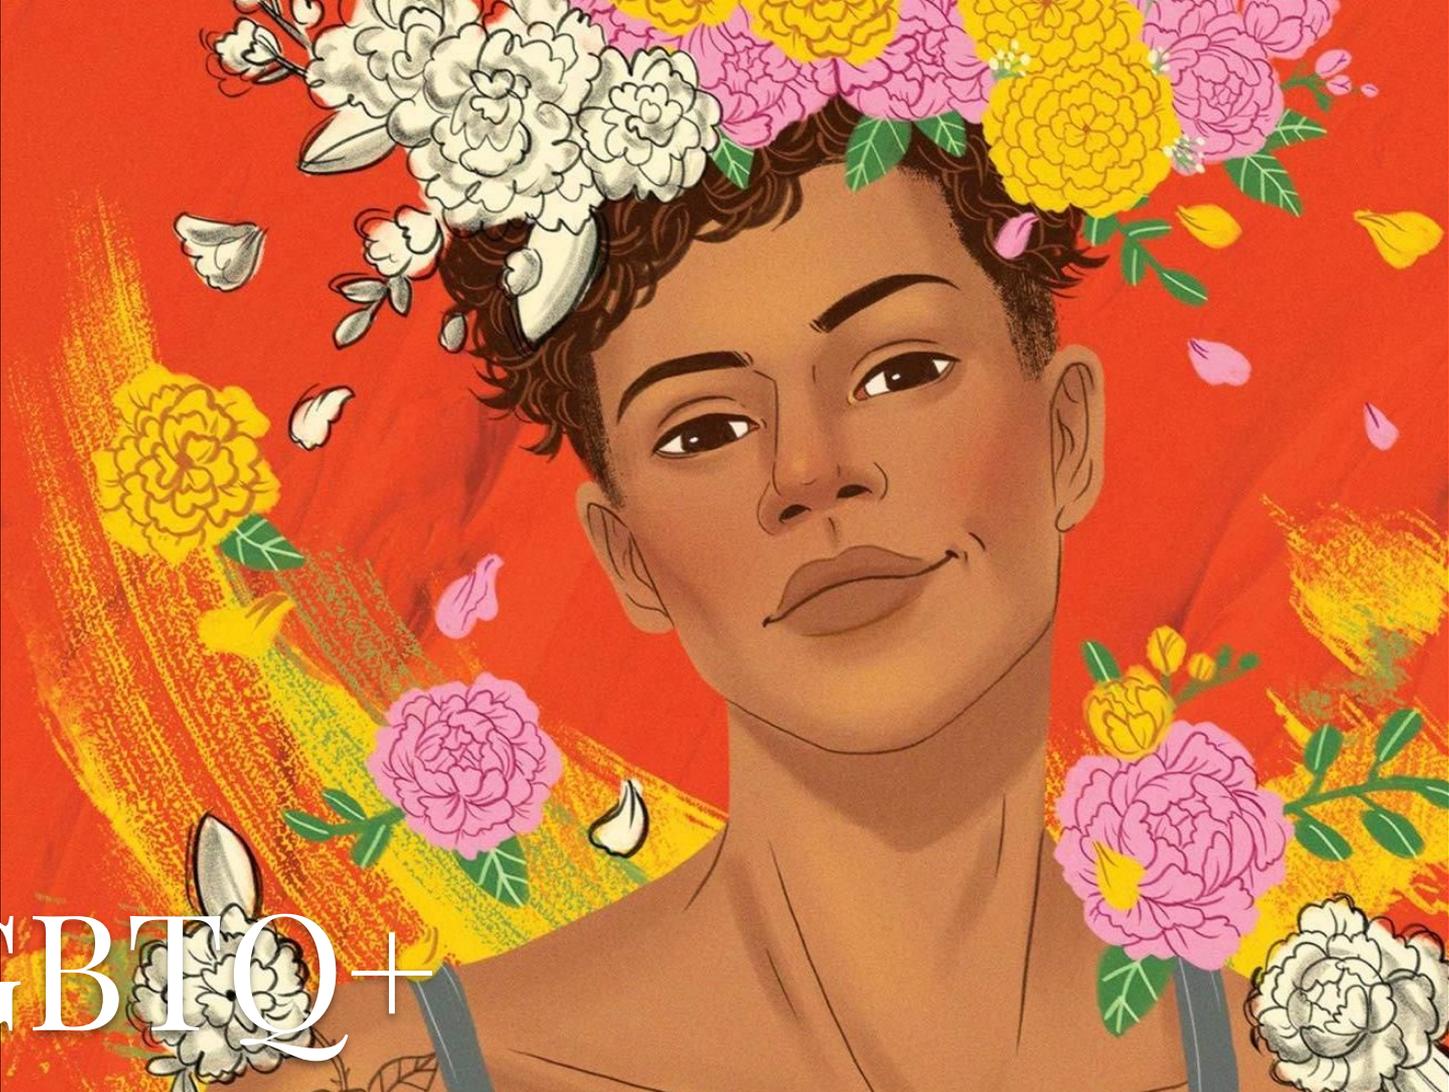

Women's, Romance

LGBTQ+

DEEP DISTRESS

A NOVEL

Literary

And according to setting:

Fantasy

Science Fiction

Dystopian

Historical

WELCOME TO POWELL'S CITY OF BOOKS

We have nine color-coded rooms on four floors which take up an entire city block. That's 68,000 square feet of bookstore! Please take a moment to get your bearings, then grab a store map and explore the world's largest used and new bookstore!

ALPHABETICAL BY SUBJECT

African American Studies	Purple Room	Childcare	Rose Room	Gay & Lesbian	Purple Room	Maps	Red Room	Politics	Red Room
Agriculture	Rose Room	Children's Books	Rose Room	Geography	Rose Room	Marketing	Orange Room	Psychology	Orange Room
American Studies	Purple Room	Christianity	Red Room	Geology	Rose Room	Martial Arts	Red Room	Railroads	Red Room
Americana	Purple Room	Classics	Blue Room	Graphic Design	Pearl Room	Math	Rose Room	Rare Book Room	Rose Room
Animals	Rose Room	Collectibles	Orange Room	Graphic Novels	Gold Room	Metaphysics	Red Room	Real Estate	Red Room
Anthropology	Purple Room	Cooking	Orange Room	Health	Red Room	Military	Purple Room	Recovery	Purple Room
Archaeology	Purple Room	Crafts	Orange Room	History	Purple Room	Music	Pearl Room	Reference	Pearl Room
Architecture	Pearl Room	Crime	Purple Room	Home Construction	Orange Room	Mystery	Gold Room	Religions	Gold Room
Art	Pearl Room	Dance	Pearl Room	Horror	Gold Room	Mythology	Red Room	Romances	Red Room
Astrology	Red Room	Deaf Studies	Red Room	Humor	Coffee Room	Native American Studies	Purple Room	Science	Purple Room
Astronomy	Rose Room	Drama	Pearl Room	Insects	Rose Room	Nature Studies	Rose Room	Sci-Fi/Fantasy	Rose Room
Atlases	Red Room	Eastern Religions	Red Room	Interior Design	Orange Room	Nautical	Rose Room	Self-Help	Rose Room
Audio Books	Coffee Room	Economics	Purple Room	Investing	Orange Room	Nautical Fiction	Gold Room	Small Press/Journals	Gold Room
Automotive	Rose Room	Education	Rose Room	Islam	Red Room	Oceanography	Rose Room	Sociology	Rose Room
Aviation	Rose Room	Environmental Studies	Rose Room	Journalism	Purple Room	Outdoors	Rose Room	Sports	Rose Room
Biology	Rose Room	Erotica	Gold Room	Judaica	Red Room	Pacific Northwest	Green Room	Test Guides	Green Room
Birds	Rose Room	Ethnic Studies	Purple Room	Large Print	Gold Room	Parenting	Rose Room	Thrillers	Rose Room
Botany	Rose Room	Etiquette	Orange Room	Law	Purple Room	Pets	Rose Room	Travel	Rose Room
Buddhism	Red Room	Feminist Studies	Purple Room	Linguistics	Red Room	Philosophy	Purple Room	Travel Writing	Purple Room
Business	Orange Room	Film & Television	Pearl Room	Literature	Blue Room	Photography	Pearl Room	Weddings	Pearl Room
Careers	Orange Room	Foreign Languages	Red Room	Literature Criticism	Blue Room	Physics	Rose Room	Westerns	Rose Room
Chemistry	Rose Room	Games	Rose Room	Magazines	Green Room	Plays	Pearl Room	Western Civilization	Pearl Room
Child Psychology	Rose Room	Gardening	Orange Room	Management	Orange Room	Poetry	Blue Room	Yoga	Blue Room

SERVICES

Books on Hold

Cashiers Green Room/ Orange Room

Coffee Shop Purple Room

Restrooms Orange Room

Used Book Buyers Orange Room

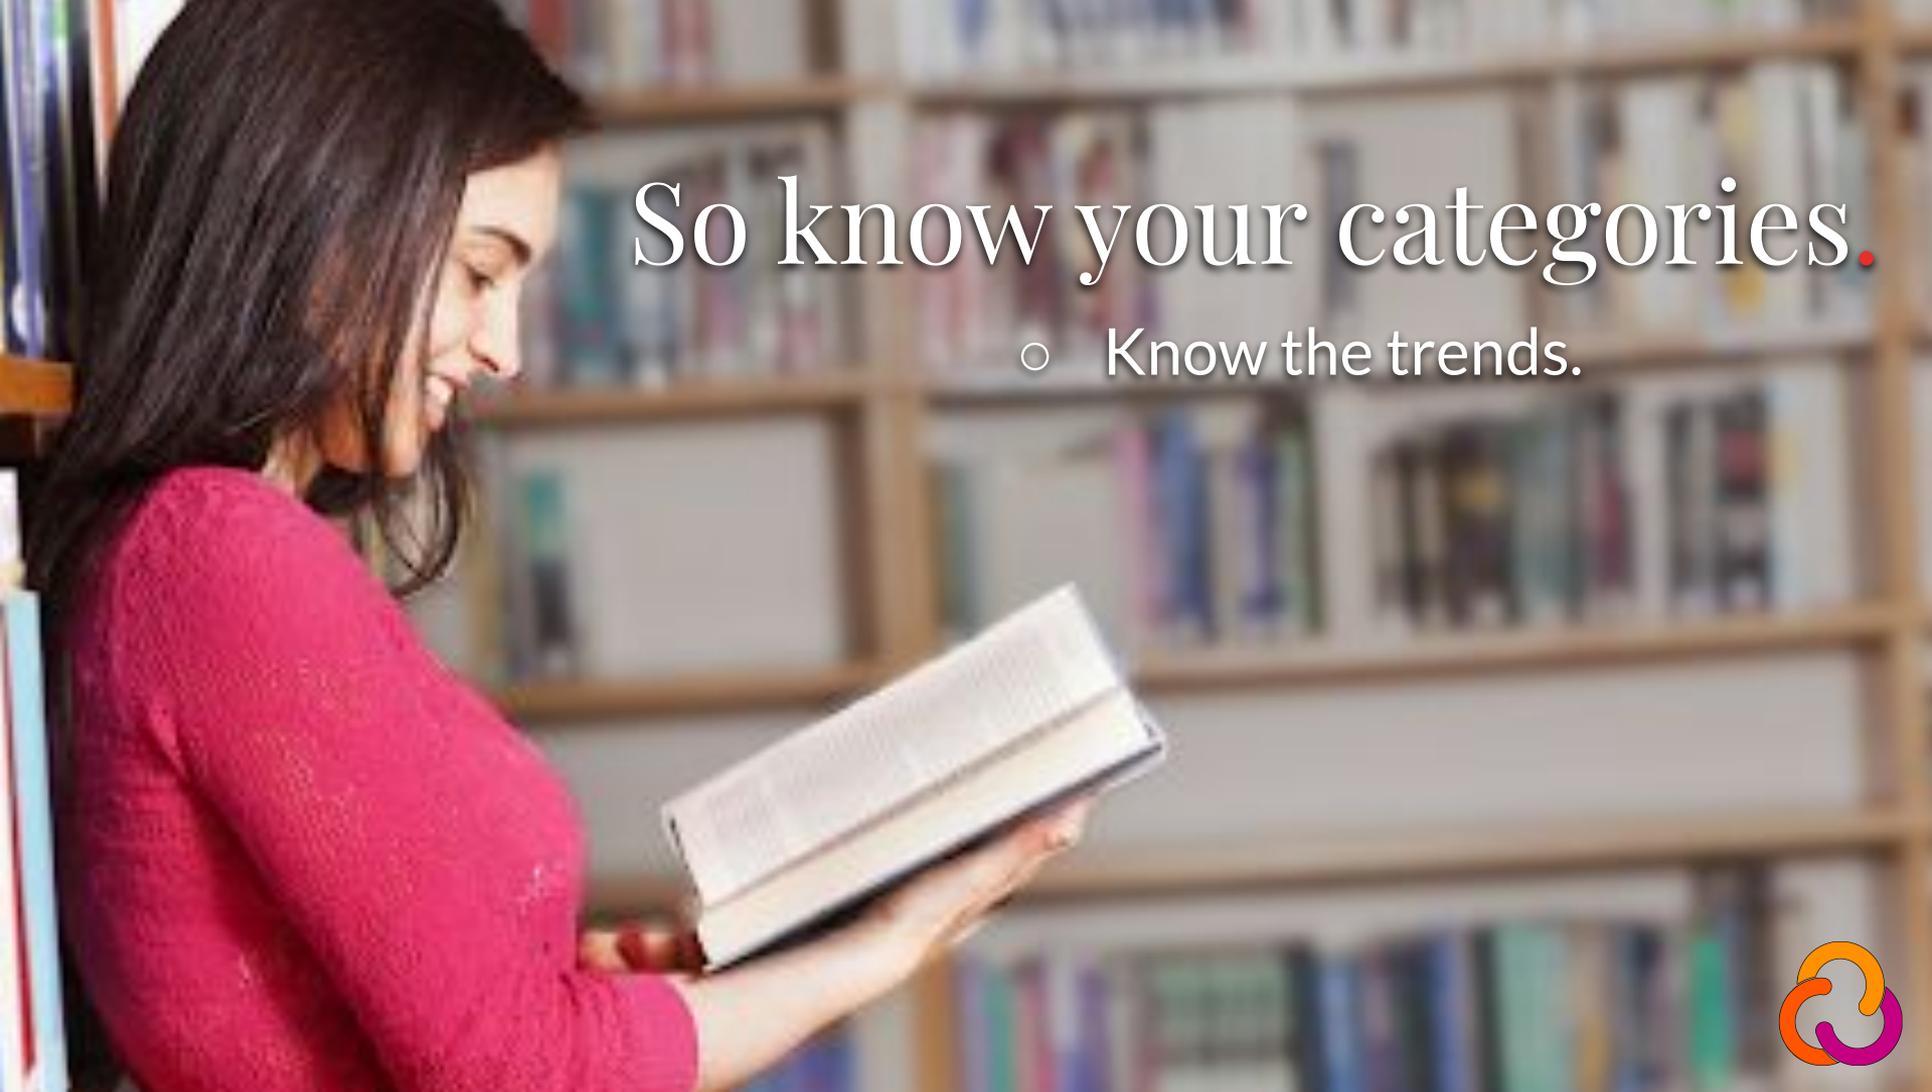

Marketing categories are important.

They may greatly influence a reader's decision to read your story.

So know your categories.

A woman with long dark hair, wearing a red sweater, is shown in profile reading a book. She is standing in a library with bookshelves filled with books in the background. The text "So know your categories." is overlaid on the right side of the image.

So know your categories.

- Know the trends.

A woman with long dark hair, wearing a red sweater, is shown in profile, reading a book. She is standing in a library with bookshelves filled with books in the background. The text is overlaid on the right side of the image.

So know your categories.

- Know the trends.
- Read widely & deeply.

A woman with long dark hair, wearing a red sweater, is shown in profile, reading a book. She is standing in front of a large bookshelf filled with books. The background is slightly blurred, emphasizing the woman and the book she is holding.

So know your categories.

- Know the trends.
- Read widely & deeply.
- Know what readers expect.

A woman with long dark hair, wearing a red sweater, is shown in profile, reading a book. She is standing in a library with bookshelves filled with books in the background. The text is overlaid on the right side of the image.

So know your categories.

- Know the trends.
- Read widely & deeply.
- Know what readers expect.
- Do your research.

BUT...

BUT...

These categories can't tell you how to construct your story.

These categories don't tell you:

These categories don't tell you:

- What your protagonist wants and needs (desire).

These categories don't tell you:

- What your protagonist wants and needs (desire).
- What they have to lose or gain (stakes).

These categories don't tell you:

- What your protagonist wants and needs (desire).
- What they have to lose or gain (stakes).
- How they change under pressure from the antagonist.

These categories don't tell you:

- What your protagonist wants and needs (desire).
- What they have to lose or gain (stakes).
- How they change under pressure from the antagonist.
- The premise or message of the story.

These categories don't tell you:

- What your protagonist wants and needs (desire).
- What they have to lose or gain (stakes).
- How they change under pressure from the antagonist.
- The premise or message of the story.
- The emotion the reader expects to feel.

That's what Story
Types are for.

Think about these stories:

BEN AARONOVITCH

CARTMEL • SULLIVAN • GUERRERO

RIVERS OF LONDON

DETECTIVE STORIES

Crime in an urban fantasy setting

Redemption in a comedic fantasy setting

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER

AUTHOR OF
*BRING UP
THE BODIES*

Wolf

Hall

PICADOR

a novel

HILARY MANTEL

Literary
Validation in a historical setting

Knowing your Story Type is just the first step.

Knowing your Story Type is just the first step.

But it's a giant step.

WHY?

Putting It All Together.

Focusing on Story Type rather than setting or marketing category will help you:

Focusing on Story Type rather than setting or marketing category will help you:

- 1 Craft your story's beginning, middle, and end.

Focusing on Story Type rather than setting or marketing category will help you:

- 1 Craft your story's beginning, middle, and end.
- 2 Meet reader expectations.

Focusing on Story Type rather than setting or marketing category will help you:

- 1 Craft your story's beginning, middle, and end.
- 2 Meet reader expectations.
- 3 Define the want & need that drive your protagonist.

Focusing on Story Type rather than setting or marketing category will help you:

- 1 Craft your story's beginning, middle, and end.
- 2 Meet reader expectations.
- 3 Define the want & need that drive your protagonist.
- 4 Finish your draft.

1

You can craft the beginning, middle and end of your story by:

1

You can craft the beginning, middle and end of your story by:

- Putting your protagonist through the changes dictated by their desire and stakes inherent in your Story Type.

1

You can craft the beginning, middle and end of your story by:

- Putting your protagonist through the changes dictated by their desire and stakes inherent in your Story Type.
- Letting the premise of your Story Type define what your protagonist must overcome as they move from beginning to end.

2

You can meet reader expectations for your Story Type by:

2

You can meet reader expectations for your Story Type by:

- Breaking free from trying to fit your story to a marketing category that isn't right for it.

2

You can meet reader expectations for your Story Type by:

- Breaking free from trying to fit your story to a marketing category that isn't right for it.
- Writing towards the emotion your Story Type promises its reader.

3 You can define your character arc by:

3

You can define your character arc by:

- Establishing what your protagonist has to lose and gain (the stakes) because of what they want.

3

You can define your character arc by:

- Establishing what your protagonist has to lose and gain (the stakes) because of what they want.
- Causing your protagonist to change by challenging them with specific pressures appropriate to the Story Type.

4

You can finish your draft because:

4

You can finish your draft because:

- Story Type clears away the clutter of story elements you don't need.

4

You can finish your draft because:

- Story Type clears away the clutter of story elements you don't need.
- It reveals elements that are missing.

4

You can finish your draft because:

- Story Type clears away the clutter of story elements you don't need.
- It reveals elements that are missing.
- It ties together the character change, the premise, and the emotion your reader expects to feel, to result in a satisfying story experience.

This is a lot to absorb.

So let's RECAP...

Today you've learned:

The 5 essential elements a professional draft
should contain.

The seven Story
Types and their importance for writers.

The difference between marketing categories & Story
Types.

How Story Types
help you finish your professional draft.

And now you're
ON THE PATH

To your professional draft.

Free for you!

The Pages & Platforms Guide to
the 7 Essential Story Types

storypath.me

Need an editor?
rachelleramirez.com

Questions & Responses

